HUNT 'MYSTERY MAN' HERE IN GEM THEFTS

"They'll destroy my dogs over my dead body."

Mrs. Lawrence Murray, wife of a Boston broker, made that statement last night from her home, Lovell road, Watertown, as she defended her side in the neighborhood feud that has grown up since Mrs. Murray allegedly unmuzzled her Spitz dog "Peter" so that he could protect himself against tormentors.

She also has another dog, "Patsy."

The feud was renewed last night as a dog named "King" (owned by K. Yevelman, music teacher neighbor of the Murrays, said his five-year-old son had been bitten by the dog while playing in the Murray home cellar.

A Somerville man was killed and his girl companion seriously injured early today when their automobile was turned over in collision with another car at Pearl and Allison streets, Cambridge.

John M. Cassin, 35, of School street, Somerville, was still alive when police carried him into Cambridge.

Missing since July 4, a lovely, young blonde Boston atom model, Miss Ada Holt of Braintree, was sought today by police of Massachusetts, Georgia and South Carolina.

The girls parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Holt of Quincy avenue, Braintree, asked that the search for their daughter be continued.

They said they feared her beauty

Wimbledon, Eng., July 24 (AP)—Henry "Bunny" Austin sent Great Britain's men's Olympic tennis team to the United States today as Frankie Parker of Milwaukee in the opening match of the challenge round 6-3, 6-2, 7-5.

The British swept out of the world's greatest tennis places when the 22-year-old Austin, who David Armstrong aspired from the Milwaukee area, was named American team as a replacement.

BUDGE IN 2D MATCH

The result of the match had been clear after the first set, but Budge did not get out in the same way. He played the second set with Austin.

ROBBERIES
Solution of a series of jewel thefts that netted a New York gang more than $30,000 and was climaxed here with a $6000 robbery in a downtown hotel, depends upon the arrest of a suave "contact man" known to Boston and New York society circles as

"Maurice," police announced today.

Still hopeful that she will come up with what will save her young husband from death in the electric chair, Anneley Disbrow, 23, wife of Anthony Disbrow, who awaits the gallows for the slaying of a man, said she paid him her fealty with tears.

The wife brought smokes and candies to Disbrow, 21, whom the judge sentenced to hang for the slaying of his father, rank, now in the State Prison, for the "Huson River murder" of Daniel Crowley, 40, of the town of Danvers.

STILL HOPEING

"Oh, he will," she said as she kissed his hair. "He is perfectly all right."

She said she would not let her husband know that she was there.

Her eyes were so filled with tears she said she could not cry.

She said that while there is life there is hope in commending his soul to God.

WANTS TO AID HUSBAND

That she has suffered much since the sentence of her young husband, she said, she is plainly wearing on her face.

She said:

"I don't want to forget with work."

"But I can't."

"I will do anything that will be helpful to my husband."

"I am doing all I can and get him some things he asked for."

There were tests that dimmed she said on departure.

Providence, July 24—Fingerprints they hope to find on fragments of shattered drinking glasses, debris of a gay party, today led police on a search of a city dump in their hunt for clues to the murder of Dr. George W. Webster, prominent obstetrician.

A half-hour after his step-mother had reported him missing since last night, he was left by the motorboat in the harbor. Bruce Gilmore, 22, of Regis road, Mattapan, phoned her today and told her he was safe. With Gilmore were his cousin, William, 29, visiting from Quebec, and friend, William A. Kist, 43, of Randolph road, Reading, owner of the 30-foot boat.

According to Gilmore, they had been drifting all night because the motor trouble had been traced to Penhenthon this morning by another boat.

Following the report to the Mattapan station by Mrs. Edythe C. Miller, the police had begun a search for the boat and had started a search of Neponset river, Quinapoint Bay and the waters near Hingham

Rose Whitman Becomes Bride In North Shore Ceremony

By BETTY ALDEN

AN ARTIST'S FINGERS would have itched for a brush and palette to paint the lovely tableau presented by Rose Whitman and her attendants at the entrance of St. John's Church in Beverly Farms this noon. Just before Rose became the bride of Channing Frothingham, Jr.,...

The colorful, festive dresses of the bridesmaids struck a delicate pleasing contrast with the tranquil solidity of the ivy covered building, and the new oak door which was dedicated last Sunday...

Inside the church a fashionably dressed gathering of friends and relatives, and at the altar, the Rev. Bradford Burnham, the bridegroom and his brother, Joseph, waited for the organist to swing into the wedding march, and the bridal procession to begin...

Six bridesmaids, Anne Tuckerman of Boston, Mrs. John Akin (Dorothy Forbes), Mrs. Ephron Catlin, 3d (Priscilla), Mrs. Winthrop Emery (Marian Clark), Mrs. Schuyler Watts (Madeline Phillips) and Eleanor Ladd, all of New York and Long Island, led the procession down the center aisle. All of these, and the honor attendants, Mrs. Thomas J. Davis, Jr. (Nancy Whitman), and Mary E. Frothingham, were gowned alike in yellow not over matching taffeta, with coronets of red and fuchsia in their hair and bouquets of summer flowers combining these brilliant colors...

Following in their wake the bride seemed to float in a cloud of soft white tulle, with one hand resting lightly on the arm of her father, Hendricks Hallett Whitman of Old Greenwich, Ct., the other clutching her pure white floral bouquet...

The wedding gown was fashioned of satin and chiffon, with the bodice of the former and the skirt of wedding chiffon. Her tulle veil was fashioned to her head with a wreath of orange blossoms. Dr. Joseph Frothingham was best man for his brother, Rose and the ushers included the bridegroom's 1931 classmates and the ushers included the bridegroom's 1931 classmates and the ushers included the bridegroom's 1931 classmates...

Reception at Essex Country Club

FOLLOWING THE CEREMONY everyone went to the Essex Country Club in Manchester to greet the bride couple and their parents. Standing in the receiving line with her daughter and new son-in-law, Mrs. Whitman was an attractive figure in powder blue net over matching taffeta, with a picture hat and slippers of a contrasting hue...

Among the prominent guests to pass through the receiving line were Mrs. Whitman's three brothers, Wayne Chatfield Taylor of Washington, D. C., Robert Chatfield-Taylor and Otis Chatfield-Taylor of New York, with the latter's wife. Rose attended St. Timothy's School in Maryland before going abroad to complete her education at Mile Jeveris School in Florence, Italy, and at the Sorbonne in Paris. She made her debut at a country party given by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lawrence of Topfield in the autumn of 1932. She is a member of the Junior League...

Mr. Frothingham, son of Dr. and Mrs. Channing Frothingham of Bay State road and Nonquit, prepared for college at St. Marks and graduated from Harvard in 1931. He also graduated from the Harvard Business School. He is a member of the Fly Club, and he and his bride plan to live in Boston after their wedding trip...

Mrs. C. Nichols Greene of Chestnut street is in Newport visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Strong, who yesterday celebrated their first wedding anniversary. They were married in London last summer. Before their marriage Mrs. Strong was Grace Nichols. For the greater part of the summer Mrs. Greene is to be found at Farleydown, Dover, Vermont, where her son, Stephen, also spends his vacation. The latter has taken a prominent part in activities of the Harvard Dramatic Club this past year...

News of Socialites in the Berkshires

A FEW BITS OF NEWS from the Berkshire Hills reveal the fact that Mrs. Eugene A. Crockett of Boston is staying with Adele B. Alsop at Red House, the estate of the latter's grandparents in Tyringham. Miss Alsop is the young lady who will be married in the autumn to Hon. Henry A. C. Howard, son of Lord Howard, former British ambassador to the United States...

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick's Crockett have departed from the Berkshires and sailed for New Guinea on an expedition for the Philadelphia Museum. Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Garfield motored out to Williamsburg from their summer home at Dutchbury to visit at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Professor and Mrs. John Preston Comer...

A community supper and get-together was held Thursday evening on the grounds of Glen Cranston Farm, Richmond, for the benefit of the village church. Mr. and Mrs. Susan Kelley were hosts to the merry-makers...

Royall Victor, Jr., and his bride, the former Isabel Gardiner, who were married a month ago, will plan their return from honeymooning in Europe to coincide with the coming out party of Royall's sister, Nancy. This affair will be a dinner given by her mother at Dutchbury, where she is spending the summer. The dinner company will probably proceed to one of the many delectable dances which are crowding the September calendar of Lord Island debs. Mrs. Victor, the bride, is the daughter of Mrs. Foster Gardiner of Chestnut Hill.

SUB-DEB Watches Style Show Mannequins

The after-dinner entertainment will consist of nine sets of mannequins, presented by some of the guests who have already started to rehearse their lines. The sets will be presented in a take-off of a Major Venable's Impersonation of the Major.

The ladies have been asked to come in gingham gowns and to further carry out the role of the gentlemen, will wear overalls or other farm attire.

The summer social activities are in full swing at Bar Harbor, where the first of the summer "Club" and yacht races of the Bar Harbor Yacht Club were held Monday afternoon. Frank Howard Brown of York, Me., won the event in his yacht, Little Audrey. Other winners were Jack Dorrance of New Bedford, who won the 100-mile race in his yacht, the "Moose", and George de la Motte of New Bedford, who won the 100-mile race in his yacht, the "Moose".

JOANNA HOYT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Hoyt, Jr., of Beverly Farms, is still a sub-debutante, and looked on their summer residence at North Harbor while Dr. Talbot has been in the city. She is still a sub-debutante, and looked on their summer residence at North Harbor while Dr. Talbot has been in the city.

Notre Dame Alumnae Convention Next Month

With delegates from France, England and Belgium in attendance the seventh triennial convention of the International Federation of Notre Dame Alumnae will be held at the Coppley Place, August 20-24.

Business meetings and lectures alternate with shore dinners and motor trips in providing an interesting program for the convention. Mrs. Dorothea M. Brown, who is president of the Notre Dame Alumnae, will be the guest of honor.

General chairman of the conference is Mrs. Margarette McGuire of New York. Mrs. McGuire is the daughter of the late Sarah Landon, president of the Massachusetts chapter, and Julia H. Landon, secretary of the Boston unit. Reception is in charge of Mrs. Thomas D. Landon, who is chairman of the local committee.

A banquet is being arranged by Margaret McGuire and James Kelley is serving as chairman of the hotel arrangements. In charge of the social program is Mary Dorey and pages are in charge of Mary J. McCarthy of the South Shore dinner and Clara Coughlin of Wolcott in chairman of the printing committee. Rose Walsh of Boston is in charge of publicity.

Proparvul Club Officer Elected

Margaret Mary Dorey of West Roxbury, member of the Proparvul Club executive board, was elected vice-president of the International Federation of College Clubs in Thursday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Newton.

Rec. Fr. Father, president, Theodore Quinn of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary, and John Sullivan of LaSalle, Wyoming, were elected officers.

Burgess-Kerwin Bridal in Newton

In a setting of garden and roses, Helen Kerwin of Newtonville was married to the Rev. Father Burgess of Marshfield at a ten o'clock ceremony on Thursday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Newton. The bride was escorted by her brother, John Kerwin, and the groom by his brother, John Kerwin. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. Father Burgess, who is the pastor of the church.

Vanderbilts Plan Novel Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt will give a fancy dress dinner party in the barn at Oakland Farm, on Friday, July 26, the eve of the American Cup races.

The after-dinner entertainment will consist of nine sets of mannequins, presented by some of the guests who have already started to rehearse their lines. The sets will be presented in a take-off of a Major Venable's Impersonation of the Major.

Beatrice Fairfax

Feels Life Would Be Happier For Both If They Had Only Met

Life presents some queer problems. Here is a girl attracted by an interesting letter which we printed recently. She is of the opinion that life would be happier for both if they had only met. Let's harken to her ideas:

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: Recently, when I was feeling particularly blue, I picked up the paper and read your column, as I always enjoy the human interest problems.

There was a letter from a girl who was really congenial. They didn't like to walk or swim, but preferred motor-cars and necking, and he said he was homesick and would mean something to him. I was very much impressed with this man's letter, because these things I really enjoy doing, and to share them with a companion would be happiness enough for me.

But this man, all I have found when I go out with someone of the opposite sex is the suggestion we drink and get drunk, and if I did not, it would have meant something serious and sacred to me.

And this man will not end it all, but if he should see me in the future, here is Hall and goodbye. From a girl who would be the same as I. I know you write to you, and your column is not a get-together. But here's hoping he reads my letter, and gets the good thoughts I mean.

Perhaps the gods will be generous and set these two young people, who have so much in common, meet. But I am sure that if they had only met, they would have been happier.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a high school graduate this year, and my father has just received an Annapolis appointment. He comes from a well family, not much money but very cultured, and he is two years older than I am.

I know he loves me, but there is a question of his being with me before he graduates. And he says he does not want to bind me to a promise that will keep me from having a good time during the next year. He will still be in Annapolis when I graduate.

I am willing to be "bound" and only hope he will give me a letter from time to time. DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am reading the paper lately as I adjust all my correspondents to you, but I have read about the boys in Annapolis and I am sure that if they had only met, they would have been happier.

MADGE REPEATS MRS. TICER'S STORY

By Adele Garrison

CHAPTER 32

"NO, I've nothing more to tell you," Mrs. Ticer said when I had ended my telephone conversation with the nurse at the farmhouse.

"And, though I hate like thunder to say it, I don't see any other way, even if we are next-door neighbors—I know you can't keep Mr. Graham waiting for his dinner. I hope those men haven't kept him up in the upper parlor. You won't be back in 10 minutes if they have."

"You don't mean you would have to go after them? I've claimed quickly. 'Till the motor horn.'"

JUDGE DOOLEY
AFTER MAJORS

Lowell, July 24.—Local baseball enthusiasts are deeply interested in the possibility that this city will be included in professional baseball league next spring.

A conference of big league and minor league baseball moguls was held in Providence, R. I., last night and it was reported that two local men were interested in securing a franchise for this city. The big leaguers are planning to establish a farm on the site of the old Eastern and New England Leagues.

No definite information about last night's conference is available here today, but it was said that Judge James E. Dooley, Providence sportsman, had arranged the meeting of officials of St. Louis Cardinals, the Rochester Red Birds of the International League and several of eight other big league and AA clubs.

Vic Lacombe had a franchise for Lowell Professional Baseball Club in the New England League until the circuit grew up a new league. ZANELLI SET FOR GO WITH ALLEN

Refusing to make a move which might hurt the boxing business, Rip Valenti, matchmaker of the Goodwin A. C. today had postponed his "dream show" from Monday to Thursday night of next week at Fenway Park.

It seems Jack McCarthy, scheduled to fight Al McCoy in the feature of four-round main bouts for the N. E. championship, had feared a cut on the cheekbone in training early this week when struck by a Walter Cunningham punch.

MEDWICK Versatile Plansky

Has 33 Point LEAD Leads Cape Loop With Willow

LOU GEHRIG'S MARGIN SLIM

New York, July 24 (AP)—Ducky Medwick's National League batting lead stretched larger than ever today, while Lou Gehrig's hold on the American League pace seemed shaky at best, as the result of their respective performances this week.

Medwick collected 13 hits in 34 times at bat during the week ending today, to keep his season average at .410, a slight drop from his .413 of the previous week.

His pre-season average was increased however, since the second-place player, Paul Waner of the Pirates and Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs, changed places, the former taking the runner-up spot.

Waner, although slumping this week, collected 12 hits in 34 times at bat, dropping 12 points to .396. As a result, Medwick's margin was stretched to 31 points over his nearest rival.

Vaughan, Handley Back With Buccs

Pie Traynor Confident Of Climb

Pittsburgh's Pirates are back in our midst for a three day visit which starts with a single game against the high flying Bees at the Hive this afternoon and a twin bill tomorrow.

Cleveland Fans Take Over Feller

Fighting Face of British Champion

READY TO GO. Arks Vaughan slides into third and Tee Handley is about to put him out. These two Pirate stars have worked out the first two days and are once again fit to play.

Both have been out with injuries, and their absence has hurt the Pittsburgh club greatly. Each will play his first game in some time at the Hive this afternoon against the Bees.

And Decide To Use Him Today

By JOE CASHMAN
Cleveland, Ohio, July 24—You don't hear much about him elsewhere these days, but Bob Feller is still the most widely discussed fellow hereabouts.

Everybody talks about him, everybody has an idea as to how to use him, and everybody has a different opinion as to when to use him.

LOOK AT T. JOE. The British lion has a bite if you don't watch out. The photo is the first facial study the fight fans of the United States have seen of Tommy Barr, British heavyweight champion, who will meet Joe Louis, the world's champion, in the Yankee Stadium, August 24.

B's Sign Boy. 18

The Bees have just signed an 18 year old youngster from the Dorchester sandlots. The newcomer is Harmon (Pal) Shufro, who hurled for Dorchester High and then pitched the Pharoos to the Park League title last year. He stands five feet ten inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. Harmon will work out with the club at home for the rest of the season and go South next spring.

NEST BET-WAR MINISTERS
Suffolk Downs, July 24
—New England's outstanding turf classic of the current season to date, the $10,000 Added Yankee Handicap, headlines a star-studded program of the sport here today.

Ten of the outstanding three-year-olds of the land have been named for the mile and three-sixteenths event.
I am picking Mrs. Emil Denewicks War Minister to win the Yankee with Rudie and Clingendaal the main dangers.
War Minister has been trained by a great tactician, and Timmer Frank Gilpin is confident that he will win. War Minister's record is ELECTRIC POWER UP, INDUSTRIALS DOWN

New York, July 24 (AP)—Industrial activity was mixed this week, with losses somewhat heavier than gains. The Associated Press seasonally adjusted index dropped to 104.7 per cent of the 1926-30 average from 105.4 a week ago, and compared with 94.2 in the same period last year.

A substantial reduction in auto mobile production—approximately one-quarter—was the principal depressant. Trade analysts said the backlog stemmed primarily from the shutdown of Ford plants for inventory and vacations.

Railroad freight loadings rose less than the total, but more than was seasonally expected. Miscellaneous loadings, consisting mostly of industrial shipments, was the most important classification failing to respond to the post-holiday pickup.

FACTORS In Labor Unrest ANALYZED

Albert N. Murray, president of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, brings out some timely points regarding labor, when he says:

"How much of the labor unrest of today is justified? To make a positive assertion that all labor strife at the present time was the result of efforts being made by new elements in the culture control of the working class might have a fairly substantial element of truth, and yet might not tell the whole story. There are other factors entering into the situation.

"With many contributing factors, the answer may be that industry is not even more unjust than it was. With full recognition of the powerful forces being used to disturb the industrial situation, we must not forget to pay tribute to the sane, clear-headed and fair-minded workers who are not to be stampeded by false and stirring propaganda.

"But as the situation may seem to be, we cannot believe that all employees are going to lose their jobs. Wise management of cooperation. Education as to the rights and responsibilities of labor. Let employees know all the facts, and they will be better equipped to analyze false propaganda.

"Here in Massachusetts we have a reputation for fair dealing and a conservatism that has saved us in good stead in the past. And this is an attitude of people as well as of industry.

"But not in particular is the time for us to stand fast, in the face of the labor movement, and fight themselves, and that our labor movement is going to be the winners through their display of judgment and their sense of responsibility. Let us keep what the highest function of conservatism is—keep what progressiveness has accomplished."

Lesson for U.S. In Way French Spending Fared

By R. C. FORBES

Events in France carry a lesson for this country, particularly for our government.

Briefly, looking to popular demand, the French government did more for the masses than it could afford. The consequences included injury to business prosperity.

Governmental financial difficulties.

Manpower of capital from France.

Demoralizing depreciation in the value of the French people's money.

Before the World War the French franc was worth 20 cents. The financial strain of the post-war struggle impoverished France and brought to the fore the economic and political forces of the future. The French government, by fastening heavier and heavier burdens upon the government, upon the people, became distrustful of the franc and began hoarding gold. In conjunction with Britain and the United States the French government sought to restore confidence in the franc. For some time the franc was used in the world as a unit of account. France had to abandon the gold standard in 1936, and the franc was worth about 35 cents.

And economic conditions in France are far from rosy.

What has the U.S. got to do with the French situation?

The French government, like the French government, has been produced in its expenditures. As in the case of the United States, the French government has been forced to raise money from the people, and to do so it has had to resort to the printing press.

"Redistribution of wealth" is a slogan that is being used in France.

MAINE Vacationists' MECCA

Recreation has become New England's second largest industry and especially in Maine other industries appreciate the benefits derived from the flow of money spent by vacationists in helping them enjoy the added burdens of government and relief. The Maine development Commission is alive in the advantage of a stay in the "vacationland" and is cooperating with all New England in publicizing its attractions.

The man whose life is a busy whirl finds himself thinking about the quiet peace of the country. He sees in his mind's eye the graceful camp of a Maine stream, while summer clouds drifting in over a peaceful lake.

The person whose existence is a deadly routine yearns for the color and interest of the out-of-door life, the soft-scented air of the forest, the soft-scented air of the forest, the soft-scented air of the forest.

NEW ENGLAND INDUSTRIES BUILD NEW ENGLAND PROSPERITY

Wages paid in New England industries are equal to this time in 1929. The buying power of these wages is now 15 to 20 per cent greater than during that peak period.

Cotton Mills, Woolen and Worsted Mills, Boot and Shoe Factories and All Other Industries Have Supplied the Life Blood of New England Prosperity

Deposits Growing In Savings Banks

The report of the Commissioner of Banks for 1936, which has recently been issued, reveals a record increase in the deposits of the mutual savings banks of Massachusetts. Total deposits as of October 31, 1936, stood at $1,121,541, a gain of $28,017, or 2.5 per cent over the previous year. An examination of the report shows that these state chartered mutual savings banks have increased their deposits steadily since 1931, with the exception of the two years at which the depression struck.

Growing deposits is conclusive evidence of the confidence of the people of the state in the conservative management of the mutual institutions and the traditional thrift of the Massachusetts people. For more than 100 years, mutual savings banks have maintained an unparalleled record for safety. With the increase in industrial payrolls, which better affords loan forward, there is a considerable increase, both in deposits and in the number of depositors.

The popularity of the club method of saving is noted by the fact that the number of club savings banks in the state has increased from 10 in 1931 to 27 in 1936. These clubs are convenient ways for the individual to save. They are often located in the homes of regular savers. This method of saving is particularly popular in the case of women, who are the principal contributors to the savings banks.

The continued increase in money makes it difficult for the mutual savings banks to keep their earnings low. Bonds which are under the contract requirements for savings bank investments are low. Competition from many other banks is keen. The mutual savings banks are the purpose of savings banks. The interest rate paid by the banks continues to be lower than the 2 1/2 per cent.

Good Price Outlook Wheat Crop Most Seen for Hog Producers

Fewer hogs but heavier ones will be marketed next fall than winter compared with the corresponding period a year earlier, according to the summer outlook issue of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The Bureau pointed out that only a small decrease is expected in the total live weight of hogs slaughtered from October through March, since average market weight is expected to be much heavier than a year earlier.

With prospects fairly favorable for a continuation of the present relatively strong consumer demand for meats, the Bureau said, "hog prices next fall and winter probably will average as high as, or perhaps higher, than in the fall and winter of 1936-37."

If the corn crop "this year" is about equal to the 1936-37 average, "indicated by the July 1 crop report the supply of corn for hog feed will be about the same as last year's. This would encourage producers to delay marketing, to realize a higher price in the fall."

"Consequently," the Bureau said, "the proportion of the total spring pig marketing before January 1, 1938, may be much smaller than usual, and the small decline in hog prices this fall may be less than average."

Hog prices in early July are about 10 cents higher than a year ago, and are expected to continue a year earlier, market supply of hogs over 25 months of age will be a year earlier, market supply of hogs over 25 months of age will be a year earlier, market supply of hogs over 25 months of age will be a year earlier.

Wheat Crop Most Valuable Since Year 1927

The 1937 wheat crop in the United States was today the most valuable in the past 10 years by the Department of Agriculture.

The department's statement was made in view of the fact that the United States probably will be the world's largest wheat exporter during 1937-38 and indications that domestic and foreign prices are likely to average higher than in 1936-37.

The domestic wheat crop was estimated at 82,000,000 bushels on July 1. A crop of the size is pointed to an exportable surplus of 12,000,000 bushels, which is about one-third of the combined crop of the United States and Canada.

The 1937-38 crop from the other surplus producing countries.

Comments of Wall Street Brokers

Danger of reaction is obviously smaller in these stocks which have advanced the least. Among these may be mentioned a number of the merchandise stock averages and utility issues as well as specialties like leather and rubbers.

U. S. Lumber, Josephthal & Co.

Look for a brief period of irregularity or reaction. In the main, would now confine new purchases of active issues to sectors of the market in which the higher prices, believing that they could work upwards despite irregularity.

While one should not overlook the short term trend of conditions in the market, it is well to place his funds in it is perhaps the most reasonable thought of the moment especially regarding his long term investments.

Building Permits Off; First Drop Since '34

Washington, July 24 (AP)—For the first time since December, 1934, building permits during June showed a decrease as compared with the corresponding month of last year.

According to reports received from 137 cities having a population of 2500 or over, there was a total of 1,000,000 building permits issued during June, a decrease of 10 per cent over the same period the year before.

The June total was the lowest since 1934, when the total was 1,100,000. In 1935, the total was 1,000,000, and in 1936, the total was 1,100,000.

New Haven, Conn., July 24 (AP)—Judge Carroll C. Hinkle of the Federal District Court gave the New Haven Railroad permission to make revenue interest payments on its new bonds.

The court is in the process of reorganization.

The bonds to be made are a $100,000,000 semi-annual installment on the New Haven & Hartford 50-year gold bonds and a $100,000,000 semi-annual installment on the New Haven & Hartford 50-year gold bonds.

Whisky Output Off Sharply

Showing the sharpest drop since repeal, whisky production in June was 29 per cent below June, 1936. This brought production for the first six months of the year down to 1,000,000 gallons, or 10 per cent below the same period last year.

Reduction last month was due to the closing of a number of large distilleries by National Distillers and Securities, 21 of the largest distilleries in the country to complete their program of closing down for good.

Summer shut-downs were generally expected, but probably be reduced on an increasing scale as stocks are built up to meet the season.

June curtailment of output, however, was described by the government as an "unusual" drop. "They predicted that you will see a real decline" before summer months have passed.

June production this year was only 1,000,000 gallons, or 10 per cent below the same period last year.

Halt Foreign "Dumping"

ONE of the greatest dangers that confront our industries today is the continued "DUMPING" on our shores of goods that can be made by our own working people—MILLIONS OF WHOM ARE STILL OUT OF WORK.

The Made in America Club reports THAT $101,000,000 WORTH OF FOREIGN BUILDING MATERIALS WAS BROUGHT INTO THIS COUNTRY IN 1936.

All of these materials CAN BE MADE IN THIS COUNTRY. One of the causes of our labor disturbances is that THEY ARE NOT.

IT IS estimated that more than 980,000 work-weeks, at an estimated wage of $30 a week, are thus lost to American workers.

"ADD TO THIS," says Captain F. X. A. Eble, who heads the patriotic Made in America Club, "THE LOSS OF AMERICAN LIGHTING, HEAT, COAL, TRANSPORTATION, DOMESTIC BANKING AND OTHER FACTORS AND YOU WILL FIND ONE OF THE FUNDAMENTAL REASONS WHY MILLIONS ARE OUT OF WORK TODAY."

We should go abroad for those things ONLY which are not grown or manufactured in this country.

THE "good neighbor policy" of our government is splendid in theory and practice when it does NOT go to the preposterous extent of shipping our money abroad for materials when millions of our people are waiting to manufacture precisely the same things at home.

And when it comes to a "most favored nation policy," we should see to it that the MOST FAVORED NATION in trade is the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

People Doom Court Bill

AN amazing demonstration of the people's will has kept the traditional American institution of an INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY intact.

The United States Senate by a decisive vote rang down the curtain on President Roosevelt's Supreme Court reorganization plan.

Americans, of course, are primarily interested in the fact that the Senate decided against tampering with the Supreme Court which would enable any man to control its decisions.

While the more than five months of bitter debate on the Supreme Court issue have tried men's tempers and patience, they have also given the people of the country A CHANCE TO BE HEARD ON THE QUESTION.

That is always a good thing. Law makers never make a mistake in giving the people an opportunity to study important questions and to make up their minds regarding them.

There can be no doubt that the people of the United States have studied the Court question earnestly and HAVE MADE UP THEIR MINDS AGAINST THE PROPOSAL TO FACE THE SUPREME COURT.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts summed up the danger which confronted the nation when he remarked:

"The result is a victory for the people.

"I am pleased to have had a humble part in arousing the people to the dangers to free and representative government that result from the unfortunate proposal to create a Supreme Court dominated by either the executive or legislative branches of the Federal government."

The Senate, it had voted hastily, might have voted to make the Supreme Court subservient to the Executive and Legislative branches of the Government.

But it did not vote that way AFTER IT HAD HEARD FROM THE PEOPLE.

Danger Signals Ahead

WHERE are we heading financially?

For the first fifteen days of July of this year the Federal Treasury spent $200,000,000 MORE than it collected in the first fifteen days of the same month.

This deficit compared with ONLY $57,654,144 EXCESS OF EXPENDITURES in the same period a year ago.

In a word, the new fiscal year has begun with a deficit nearly FOUR TIMES as great as the last fiscal year began with.

In this face of the fact that we were promised a slash in expenditures and a closing up of the deficit which has started us in the face for SEVEN YEARS.

On July 15, the Federal debt stood at $36,597,333,374—more than $3,000,000,000 IN EXCESS of the debt of a year ago.

A growing deficit and debt means that MORE MONEY has to be raised to make RECEIPTS catch up with EXPENDITURES.

It means that MORE MONEY has to be raised, to day or tomorrow, to pay off the bonded and pledged indebtedness.

That money can be raised only one way—OUT OF YOUR POCKETS. Mr.

We HEAR of retrenchments, but what we SEE are a widening deficit and a growing debt.

Let us not forget the straw that BROKE THE CAMEL'S BACK.

New Wage, Hour Bill Offered

A NEW wage and hour bill, aimed as a protection of the New England textile and food industries, has been filed by U. S. Senator H. Styles Bridges, (R.) of New Hampshire.

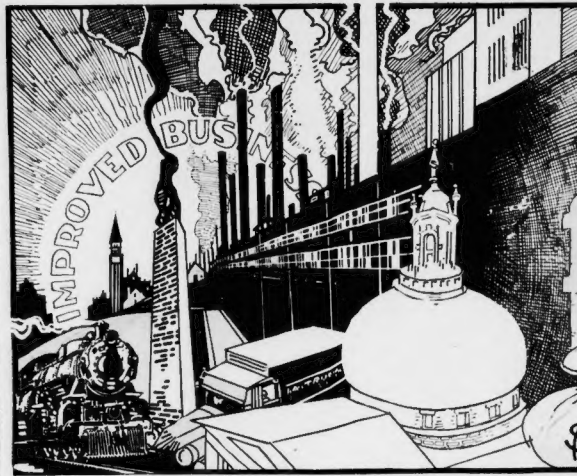

This measure, which has been approved by New England business interests, contains a tariff provision which industrialists claimed during hearings on the Black-Connery bill was necessary for their protection.

The tariff provision proposed increasing duties "to equalize the differences in the increased costs of production and to prevent foreign goods and textile industries, has been filed by U. S. Senator H. Styles Bridges, (R.) of New Hampshire.

in his measure a 40-hour week with a 40-cent minimum hourly wage, declared "we must prevent foreign goods from underselling our own products whose costs have been raised by increasing labor standards."

The public at large has deep interest in this bill and speedy Senate action is predicted.

Boston a Beehive of Industry With Savings Deposits Increasing Steadily

LET'S talk about Boston, an old city with new opportunities.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce, according to its latest publication, has been finding out how Boston is coming along. Few realize what a BEEHIVE OF INDUSTRY Boston really is so let's review some startling facts.

The city's career, covering more than 300 years' activity in trade and business, is not matched by any other city in the NATION.

The area is one of the most densely populated in America. Here 55 per cent of the population occupy but 12 per cent of the State's area.

Wholesale business in Boston is 74 per cent of the Massachusetts total and 53 PER CENT OF THAT OF THE SIX NEW ENGLAND STATES.

In economic standing and SPENDING POWER of its people Boston has no superior.

The spendable cash receipts of Suffolk County have been set at $805 per person.

Metropolitan Boston is FIFTH in size of population among metropolitan districts of the United States, FIFTH in volume of manufacturing activities, the THIRD American commercial center, THIRD in financial importance, SECOND in rate of income-tax payers to population, FIRST in individual buying power, FIRST in per capita wealth and savings, and unsurpassed in the measurable factors pertaining to education, community resources and progressive living.

The 5100 factories in the district have an annual output of $1,000,000,000. More than 200,000 are engaged in work and the annual industrial payroll is 200 millions. Close to 60 per cent of ALL GOODS made in the State are produced in the Boston industrial area.

Now if you haven't become confused in a mass of statistics let's go along a little further with Boston's accomplishments.

Boasting the largest fish pier in the world Boston holds the distinction of being the NUBER ONE FISHING PORT of the Western Hemisphere. More than 200 million pounds of fresh fish are landed here yearly. Imports from foreign ports bring the total fish receipts to 400 million pounds. Last year fish brought to the port was valued at $9,588,315, AN INCREASE OF 78.7 PER CENT over the low depression year.

Milk in the Boston district produce ONE-FIFTH of the nation's total (all New England's share is two-thirds). Manufactured wooden and wicker goods are valued at 100 millions annually.

The huge industry is responsible for making Boston the LARGEST RAW WOOL MARKET in the country.

Boots and shoes occupy second position among the area's products. New England's share of shoe production is more than a THIRD of that of the ENTIRE NATION.

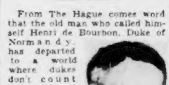

The Boston retail market represents one of the greatest concentrations of BUYING POWER in the United States. In volume of retail sales the Boston area is exceeded by the New York and Chicago trade territories. Boston's per capita sales at retail amount to $362, against $334 for New York.

The city steps ahead of its rank as a retail center in several instances. It is the fourth largest of American cities in sales by department stores and women's ready-wear—specialty stores, as well as in sales by furriers and fur shops, and by apparel accessories and other apparel stores.

After all of this one should speedily come to the conclusion that Boston isn't such a BAD COMMUNITY IN WHICH TO LIVE.

Lost Dauphin Mystery

The Human Side of the News

From The Hague comes word that the old man who called himself Henri de Bourbon, Duke of Normandy.

But it did not vote that way AFTER IT HAD HEARD FROM THE PEOPLE.

little vitality. But the tale would not down that, actually, by identity and bribery he had been smuggled out of the Temple and spirited away to a place of safety.

For more than a century the story had persisted that the Dauphin was brought to this country, where he was said to have been hidden by some other noble emigre, and that he lived for many years in Philadelphia, then, as now, a city strongly French in spirit and habit.

NEW ENGLAND KUMOR

A third account was that he came to maturity in the United States and became a missionary among the Iroquois Indians of New York and New England.

It is one of those legends that never die, like the legend of the survival of Marshal Ney, and the legend that Lincoln's assassin, Wilkes Booth, was not shot to death in a barn near Washington, but escaped to live out his life and die an old man in Oklahoma.

Only a little while ago another claimant to the throne of France, another Lost Dauphin, turned up on an island of the Azores group, the island of St. Miguel. He was known as Joachim Paperi, and was the ancient family name of the French kings, and he was a farmer in the village of San Antonio. Like the Bourbon he, the Azores Dauphin, is blond and blue-eyed, and actually has the Bourbon family with its long nose and full-lipped lips.

FRENCH COMMENT

Perhaps it is other imagination, but people who have taken with him credit him with a marked air of dignity and authority, all of which are the ordinary peasant.

Investigation will show that Joseph, French farmer of San Miguel, is the descendant of an ancestor, French noble, who lived for years on San Miguel, and who, after his death, received visits from extremely distinguished European persons who treated him with almost reverential respect and addressed him as "Prince."

The avowed discovery attracted much attention in France and was widely commented upon in French papers.

The recognized heir of the Bourbon and of the Bourbon throne is the young Comte de Paris, son of the Due de Guise, legitimate Orleans pretender. But they trace their royal blood from the younger branch of the Bourbons, not the elder, as the Naundorffs do. In an event, the story has persisted for nearly a century and a half.

That's That

As A BRAKE TO SLOW DOWN PRODUCTION.

Under the present social security act, the federal government matches, dollar for dollar, state old age pension payments up to $10 a month. Now a movement has been started in the lower states to have the federal government contribute to the old age pension. The plan is to have the government put up two dollars for each dollar paid by the states for old age pensions. That was done in 1935, but it wouldn't be long until there was a dollar for each dollar paid by the states. The government would then have to reduce its contribution to one dollar for each dollar paid by the states. Premier Chautemps, working out a three-year plan to solve France's economic difficulties, has announced that he will increase in production in the hope that the increased circulation of money will bring in more taxes. The second point in his program is to reduce government expenditure. If governments tried economy, they would have to discover that revenues can be increased without inventing new taxes. The third point is EXCESSIVE TAXATION ACTS.

If the old age pension is increased to $15 a month, additional taxes will have to be levied or the government would do well to keep in mind that there are more taxpayers than old age pensioners.

It is high time congressmen realized that the Federal government, when it makes donations to states, is merely giving back to the states part of their own money. The Federal government has no source of income except the taxes of the states. sooner or later, they have to provide from their pockets every dollar of the billion that are added out from Washington, D. C.

KID, YOU'RE SWELL!

How do I go on?

When I'm dead and—

When I'm fed up—

Or mad as a hatter—

At some dirty deal—

Or sick with grief—

Because I've made

A foul mistake—

How do I go on?

When I'm down and—

Or sick with grief—

Because I've made

A foul mistake—

How do I go on?

When I'm down and—

Or sick with grief—

Because I've made
